Green Street Presbyterian Church

To Worship, To Learn, To Serve

May and June, 2014

From the Pastors Desk

One thing that most monthly written newsletters try to accomplish is to help members of the congregation become clearly aware of immediate and necessary needs within the congregation. Activities that are coming up. Important needs that members need to be apprised of affecting them and the other members of the congregation. The business of the church that now requires immediate attention, and especially news and information about congregation members that all concerned members desire to be apprised of that currently still are in existence.

As a pastor I often wonder what thoughts pass through a members mind as they read in a newsletter. Sometimes it's good news about a family or sometimes you may hear for the first time about the unspeakable sorrow that a friend or some stalwart member family is now forced too struggled through?

Let me pose a simple question to the members of Green Street. Do you as a member of this congregation feel a special bond with your fellow members when they pass through the dark days of trial and tribulation? Or is it true that evening in this congregation, that I love so much, the general thought of our people is summarized in words like these. "Everyone has problems so why should we get involved in those issues?" It could really be helpful for us sometime to have a class session on this theme just to help ourselves clarify where we stand in relationship with that powerful question from scripture where one man asked almost haughtily, "Am I my brothers keeper?" How far would we press our answer to that question, and what would it say to us and about us if we answered as honestly as we could?

At the heart of the faith that we pledge ourselves to live by is a firm commitment to study the Scriptures and to take them seriously as we make our day by day decisions that clearly radiate the truth about the reality about how deep our real commitment is to the Savior of the World, Jesus Christ. Our faith makes it very clear that we cannot serve two masters, the rulers of this world and all its secular powers or Jesus Christ, the Lord of life and God's only Son who broke into human history so that all people could be saved by his precious and willing sacrifice on the cross at Calvary so that we might all have the privilege of living eternally in the Kingdom of Heaven with our Savior Lord and his Heavenly Father who loves us with an eternal love and knows and calls us each one by our names. That is the simplest meaning of God's love for us.
